TRUSTEE REPORT

To the Unitholders,

Directors of Principal Trustee Company Private Limited have the pleasure in presenting the Twenty Fifth Annual Report along with the audited financial statements of the Schemes of Principal Mutual Fund for the Financial Year 2018-2019.

1. Scheme Performance, Future Outlook and Operations of the Scheme:

(a) Equity Schemes - Overview during Financial Year Year 2018-2019

Returns from Indian equity markets were uneven for different segments of the market during FY 2018-Returns from Indian equity markets were uneven for different segments of the market during FY 2018-19. While the NSE Nifty index which comprises 50 large cap names was up by 14.93% during the year, the BSE midcap index and the BSE small cap index were down 3.03% and 11.57% respectively during this period. Even within the large cap indices, few stocks contributed to most of the returns in the index. As an example, price rise in just five stocks contributed to 80% of the total rise in the Nifty during FY 2018-19. Macroeconomic conditions for India remained benign through FY 18-19 except for the Rupee which was volatile especially around September-October. For the year, the Rupee was weaker by 6% against the USD. Government revenues for FY 18-19 were under pressure as both direct and indirect tax collections were below revised estimates for the year. However, the government was able to manage the fiscal slippage both by expenditure compression and by off balance sheet financing. CPI inflation moderated in the year through February '19 and though it rose in March 2019, it remained well within the comfort zone of the RBI.

In terms of flows into equity markets, Mutual funds had net inflows of ₹ 87,348 crores. However, the flows were front ended with 88% of these coming in the first seven months (April to October). Strong flows from Foreign Portfolio Investors (FPI) in the last quarter of FY 18-19 took net FPI flows to near zero levels for the full year as against negative inflows in the first three quarters.

Global newsflow was mixed during the year. In the first half of FY 18-19, financial conditions tightened as US bond yields rose, the USD gained strength (it gained 8% between March and November 2018) and oil prices were higher (gaining 18% between March and September). Trade issues between US and China dominated headlines throughout the year and had a negative impact on market sentiment.

In India, the default by IL&FS and its associate entities towards their debt obligations in September had ramifications both in fixed income and equity markets. Concerns about credit quality and asset liability mismatches in some NBFCs and housing finance companies (HFCs) led to funding becoming more difficult for them both from banks and mutual funds. This tightening of credit conditions in the economy for the second half of FY 18-19 had an impact on the demand conditions in the real economy. There was a perceptible slowdown in automobile demand in H2, FY 18-19 though other factors beside lower availability of credit were also responsible.

(b) Debt Schemes - Overview during Financial Year Year 2018-2019

During the Financial Year 2018-19, debt market saw two phases in movement in interest rates. The RBI started the year with policy rate at 6% in April 2018, moving it up to 6.5% by Aug 2018 and then cutting rates again to 6.25% by Feb 2019. Through the financial year, inflation remain well anchored with CPI remain ranged between 4.28% to 2.86% between March 2018 and March 2019 while GDP data deteriorated materially to 5.8% for Q4FY19 from 8.1% in Q4FY18.

In the first half of the FY (April to Sep 2018) the Indian Government 10 year benchmark went up sharply peaking out at 8.02% in Sep 2018 from 7.40% in Apr 2018. This was in the background of Brent crude prices moving up from 68.83 USD per barrel to app. 82USD per barrel as on Sep 2018, INR depreciating to 72.49 from 65.18 and ten year US Treasuries moving from 2.78% to 3.06% in the same period. Thereafter in the second half (Oct 2018 to March 2019), yields had a steady movement downwards. The Indian Government 10 year benchmark moved down to 7.35% in March 2019 from 8.02% in Sep 2018. This was in the background of Brent crude prices falling to app. 67.5 USD per barrel in March 2019 from 82USD per barrel in Sep 2018, INR appreciating to 69.16 from 72.49 and ten year US Treasuries rallying down from 3.06% to 2.41% in the same period. Higher oil prices, higher global treasuries, depreciating currency and RBI in a rate hike mode were the main reasons contributing to the increase in yields in the first half. Thereafter a falling trend in Brent crude price, decreasing UST, appreciating currency and RBI in a rate cut mode towards the second half of the year resulted in decline in yields. The yields came down also because in the second half, RBI injected durable liquidity via OMOs (purchase of dated gsecs) close to ₹ 3 lakh crore. The OMOs got necessitated as banking system liquidity went into decisive deficit zone oct onwards due to slow down in expenditure by GOI to maintain fiscal deficit.

The debt market got impacted severely in the middle of the year with a large AAA rated company defaulting in its obligations from Sep 2018 onwards. This impacted the credit spreads materially reflected in widening of spreads even for AAA corporate bonds. The AAA Corp bond 10 year spread moved higher to 103bps from app 61bps between March 2018 and 2019. The spreads for lower rated corporates especially NBFCs/HFCs moved up even higher. Yields on one year CDs rose to almost 8.7% in Sep 2018 from 7.37% in March 2018 before normalizing to 7.48% in March 2019. This movement was also reflected in One year T bill levels which rose to 7.65%, from 6.47% in March 2018 before normalizing to 6.37% in March 2019.

Fiscal deficit for 2018-19 came in at 3.4% of GDP, a slight slippage from the original budgeted estimate of 3.3% mainly by curtailing expenditure and postponing subsidies. This was necessitated due to lower than budgeted revenues both through direct taxes and indirect taxes.

On the global front the Federal Reserve Bank in the US effected three rates hike- in June 2018, Sep 2018 and Dec 2018. Each time the rates were increased by 0.25%. The Fed Funds rate ended FY 2019 in the range of 2.25%-2.5% vs 1.50% - 1.75% at the end of March 2018. Among other important global events, trade protectionism measures imposed by the US Trump government has led to counter tariff impositions by China and other targeted countries leading to fears of escalating trade tensions and impact on global growth. This has led to a safe haven buying of UST resulting in significant fall in yields. The resulted impact on potential slowdown in growth prompted RBI to begin its rate cut journey with first cut in Feb 2019 changing policy rate to 6.25% from 6.5%. Despite this the policy rate ended the year at 25bps higher than March 2018 when it was at 6%.

During the Financial Year 2018-19, both Regular and Direct Plans under the Scheme underperformed its benchmark. The underperformance was primarily on account of higher concentration of an issuer (DHFL bond) which got downgraded by multi-notchings and a small exposure of IFIN CP of 3cr (which was 100% markdown post default). The downgrade resulted in higher MTM losses to the fund resulting in underperformance.

The net assets of the Plan under the Scheme amounted to ₹ 242.56 Crs as at March 31, 2019 as compared to ₹ 488.84 Crs as at March 31, 2018.

Outlook and Operations of the Scheme:

a. Equity Market:

Post the formation of the new government at the centre, market participants await the union budget. While the budget may not be too different from the interim budget presented in February in terms of numbers, the market will watch for direction of policy in the budget speech and will look for further steps in the direction of improving 'ease of doing business'. The fiscal stance of the government and expenditure management will be of particular interest given that government revenues have been under pressure in the past few quarters. However, we do expect GST revenues to continue to show improvement as the government gets strict with implementation and on defaulters. There could be some relief to the government if some portion of RBI excess reserves are transferred to it.

The market will watch for the progress of the monsoon which has been delayed and patchy in June. While this has delayed sowing, there could be some impact on food price inflation if monsoon rains are below normal. Consumer demand sentiment is weak currently, especially for automobiles and consumer durables. While the situation of tight credit for NBFCs and housing finance companies is better than it was, and select companies are able to raise funds, we think it will take some time for things to stabilize and become normal.

The consensus estimates for earnings growth for the Nifty for FY 20 are in the range of 20-25%. More than half of the growth in earnings is expected to come from financials as banks have provided for past stressed assets and incremental slippages have been moderate. However, if there are negative surprises in this regard from banks or from other sectors given that GDP numbers point to a slowing economy, the earnings estimates for FY 20 would be revised down. The market valuations are at slight premium to historical valuations. We think given the challenges, it is likely that FY 20 will be another year of moderate returns from equity.

Debt Market:

RBI has reduced repo rate for the third time by 25bps in June 2019 taking the policy rate to 5.75. This was also accompanied with change in the stance of policy. The policy stance which was 'neutral' during the whole of last financial year, has been now changed to 'accommodative'. Going forward given the change in stance, we rule out any more rate hikes. In the visible future we expect RBI may further reduce policy rates in range of 25-50 bps based on evolving market conditions. We believe that GDP data which was mere 5.8% in Jan-Feb-Mar 2019 quarter is not likely to significantly improve given all round slow down visible in consumption and investment data points. The monthly auto sales (two wheeler, commercial vehicles and passenger car), export-import data, credit growth data especially by nbfc's which has slowed down disbursements either due to lack of funding availability or due to prudent liquidity policies, unsold housing inventory, rural consumption trend as reflected in recent consumer company results, global trade war related tensions etc all point towards lack of probability of any 'u' shape recovery in growth. India's growth also is currently impacted by growth slowdown globally as reflected in recent downwards revision in the world oil demand by OPEC nations. On the other hand, inflation looks well anchored to remain in the comfort zone of the policy maker (4+-2%) especially after material reduction in core inflation numbers in recent months. Inflation should also remain supported due to lower cost of landed price of fuel in the visible future. Given the growth-inflation dynamics have turned towards necessity to focus more on growth slowdown rather than threat of any increase in inflation, we foresee RBI to remain accommodative for visible future.

While gilt, corporate bond and money market rates have been falling following RBI rate cuts over few months, we believe they will remain supported from here onwards with volatility in small range. However we also believe RBI will ensure enough liquidity is available at any point of time to ensure smooth flow of credit in the system. The ongoing NBFC/HFC crisis is a threat which if not focused on can result in incrementally more damages and hence believe government would take appropriate steps to stem any further impact.

Principal Mutual Fund (PMF) as at March 31, 2019 offered Twenty Two Schemes.
